

SOCIETY

The summer girl in the swing of the season makes herself ready for her campaign at the seashore and mountain resort, for a trans-Atlantic tour or for explorations in Japan.

Once she has made up her mind she knows no hesitation, and wherever she may turn up she is as cool, as jaunty and as self-possessed as possible.

In Richmond there is a growing tendency on the part of maids and matrons to go for the summer abroad. This year a number of parties are traveling on the continent or spending their time in the British Isles.

Misses Bertie and Gretchen Nolting left Richmond in February for the East with Miss Maria Blair. They have been joined by Mrs. and Miss Nolting, and the whole family will be for the summer in Germany.

Mrs. Charles P. Stokes and Miss Allene will summer in the British Isles, dividing their time between Mrs. Stokes' sister in London and other friends in Ireland and Scotland.

Among the young ladies who have gone abroad for study as well as recreation are Miss Anne Dunlop, Miss Meredith and Miss Fletcher, who have gone to Paris; Miss Cora, Miss Whitfield and Miss Burnett, who will divide their time between London, Paris and other points of interest on the continent.

A charming party, chaperoned by Miss Margaret Lee, numbers Miss Margaret Shelders, Miss Lily Urquhart and Miss Mary Buford. Landing at Antwerp, they are now making the trip up the Rhine, and have a splendid itinerary to look forward to. Miss Louie Whitlock is another Richmond girl who has gone abroad. Miss Helen Christian, with a party of friends, sailed from San Francisco for Japan some months ago. She will not be back in Richmond until the autumn.

Mr. and Mrs. William Meade Clark will sail for the other side June 27th. Miss Nannie Hicks, who has been spending the month of June with friends in Lawrenceville, will go to New York in July to join friends there and sail with them for England, France, Switzerland and possibly Norway.

Atlantic City has become of late years a favorite resort with Richmond people. Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Jones, with Master Bernard Jones, will spend two months there this summer, and later in the season many parties will go for a few weeks' holiday. Miss Ellen Glasgow has been at their place in Atlantic City. She has a preference for Nova Scotia, and has gone for more than one summer to Charlotte-town, Prince Edward Island. Whether she will do so this season remains to be seen.

Mrs. Dabney Crenshaw and family are at Virginia Beach. So are Mrs. Archer Anderson and the Misses Anderson. Mr. and Mrs. Barton Grundy, Mrs. George Cunningham and Miss Emily Lyman are at Buckroe Beach. Colonel Alexander Cameron and family have closed their town house and gone to Cape Cod. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stevens are noted for the pleasant entertainments which they give at their place in Absecon. A car party to Lexington, Va., for the V. M. I. finals will be followed by one of these pleasant social events this year.

Mrs. Benjamin Nash and Miss Mary Hatch will go to the Absecon Hotel, Goshen, for a part of the summer. Mrs. Alsop and Mrs. Miller McCue will spend some time in Luray, Va. Mrs. Robert H. Fisher, the Misses Fisher and Mrs. Virginia Hall will go to Boston and the Massachusetts coast and return to Virginia and to "Gaymont," near Staunton, for the late summer.

Mrs. D. B. Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Stanard will be among the many who will go to Boston early in July for the Education Conference there.

Miss Alice Parker and Miss Virginia Pitt will be at Harvard during the greater part of the summer. The cool weather has had the effect of making the summer girl satisfied to remain during June in Richmond. Indeed, the annual migration of the summer swallows has been much deferred, but after awhile they will feel the impulse to fly and then the mountains and the beach will know them and greet them again.

Weddings of Next Week.

Of great interest to friends in Dinwiddie county and Richmond is the marriage this week of Miss Emily Elizabeth Baskerville to Dr. Walter N. Chinn, of Hager, Westmoreland county. The celebration will take place June 25th in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Dinwiddie, the Rev. A. B. Chinn, of Covington, Ky., to be the celebrant.

Miss Baskerville is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Baskerville, of "Montrose." She is a lovely blonde who has enjoyed the reputation for belle-hood wherever she has appeared for several seasons. She was attended by her maid of honor, Miss S. H. Canabie, of this city; Miss Alice and Miss Agnes Brockenbrough, of Richmond county; Miss Della Corling, of Richmond; Miss Blanche Cuthbert, of Petersburg; Miss Hagar Rives, of Dinwiddie, and Miss May Davis, of Raleigh, N. C.

MISS NANCY CLARKE NULTON, OF WINCHESTER, VA.

Miss Nulton recently graduated from the Woman's College in Baltimore, where she was the vice-president of the Southern class. She is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia Nulton, and her father, the late Colonel Joseph A. Nulton, was a prominent man in Virginia military circles. She is also a sister of Lieutenant L. M. Nulton, United States Navy, who is now with Admiral Sands on the Texas at Newport News, and of Mr. H. S. Nulton, who is well known to Richmond insurance men.

brother, will be best man. The groomsmen will include Messrs. Walter, Willis and Thompson Baskerville and Mr. Cabell Rives, of Dinwiddie county; Mr. Edward Griffith, of Westmoreland, and Mr. James Outburt, of Petersburg, Va.

A reception to the bride party and the intimate friends of the contracting parties will be given at "Montrose" the evening of June 24th. Dr. Chinn and his fiancée are both very popular in Richmond. The doctor is a graduate in the class of '01 of the Medical College of Virginia. The high stand he took then has been maintained since, and he is now one of the most successful physicians in his section of Virginia. Quite a party from Richmond will attend the wedding.

Last Week's Weddings.

One of the prettiest weddings of the month was celebrated last Wednesday evening at the Third Presbyterian Church when Miss Mary Barnard Hill, eldest daughter of Mr. Annie M. and the late Rowland Hill, was married to Mr. Lindley Murray Blinford, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. R. B. Eggleston, the pastor of the church.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. William R. Hill, was escorted in silver gray gown de levant, garnished with tucked chiffon and lace, the fichu being held with cream cord and chiffon pendants. A white lace picture hat completed the costume, the only ornament worn being the groom's gift, a pearl and diamond brooch.

The maid of honor, Miss Etta Hill, was in white Paris mousseline and carried pink roses. The groom was attended by his best man, Mr. W. H. Beale, of Washington, D. C., and by Mr. James C. Harwood, Mr. D. E. Miles, Mr. Waverly B. Pollard, Mr. William M. Turner, Mr. Robert O. Smith and Mr. T. E. Chambers, of Petersburg, Va.

The wedding was attended by Mr. W. T. Snelling, master of ceremonies. Mrs. Hill, the bride's mother, had on a heavy black peau de sole, with point lace and diamonds. Miss Harriett and Miss Grace Hill were in white mousseline. A beautiful feature of the ceremony was the showering of rose leaves in the path of the bride by her former pupils, who had reserved seats at the church.

One of the most valued of a number of elegant wedding gifts was a souvenir album, designed by Miss Minnie Robinson out of gray cardboard. The cover design showed a wreath of Virginia creeper in autumn tints, encircling the motto, "In Old Virginia." Within were views of historic places in the Old Dominion and pictures of a group of prominent Richmonders, among them the late Dr. Moses D. Hoge, Captain Frank Cunningham and Hon. J. Taylor Blyson.

The principal and teacher of Springfield school, with which Miss Hill was identified for a number of years, presented a handsome silver bread tray, and Miss Hill's class of 1902-1903 gave her a lovely ornament for the hair. Her usher's gift was an elegant silver service silver. Such remembrances from friends bear testimony to the fact that the bride has been always considered one of the most accomplished teachers in Richmond and a young lady of great personal magnetism.

Mr. Blinford is an influential and prominent citizen of Saco, Maine, where, with his wife, he will be at home after July 10th. Mr. Blinford is a member of the firm of George A. Croswell & Sons, and is very successful in business.

A notable wedding of the past week occurred on Wednesday evening, June 17th, at No. 60 West Grace Street, the home of Mr. William Walter Spratley, when his sister, Miss Rosa Booth Spratley, became the wife of Dr. Isaac Hilliard Davis.

White and green alone formed the decorations of this wedding, which, though quiet, was beautiful. Only relatives of N. Callisch, of Beth Ababa Synagogue. Vocal solo, by Miss Mamie Harrison; violin obligato, piano accompaniment by Messrs. Frederick and Christian Evansen. Presentation of diplomas by Dr. W. T. Oppenheimer, and solo by Miss Lillian Taylor.

Presentation of class pins by Dr. Greer Buchanan. Solo by Mr. Marvin Lumpkin. Flowers for the graduates.

Refreshments will be served and congratulations offered at the close of the programme.

The plans to be used during the evening have been kindly loaned by the Stieff Company.

The graduates are: Miss Alice Evans Grantham, of North Carolina; Miss Jessie Haldeman, of Virginia; Miss Lottia Moore Campbell, of Virginia; Miss Rosa Nelson Deswell, of Virginia; Miss Helen Morton Hunt, of Virginia; Miss Jennie McLean Courts, of North Carolina.

The Stay-at-Home Whist Club met with Miss Florence Tyler last week. Mr. Bland Spotswood Smith and Miss Mattie Harris making the highest score.

The meeting next Tuesday evening will be with Mrs. John Hunter.

Tea was served at the Woman's Club last Monday with a large attendance of members and visitors. Among the latter were Mrs. H. B. Watkins, of Danville, Va., and Mrs. Davis, of North Dakota, who came to Richmond from the Hot Springs for a brief visit.

At the meeting of the Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, held last Wednesday afternoon in Lee Camp Hall, reports from the Central Committee and from the Lynchburg convention, were made. Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, the president of the chapter, was presented with a beautiful silver card receiver, inscribed with her monogram. The presentation was an evidence of the high esteem in which Mrs. Randolph is held by the Daughters.

The Confederate Memorial Literary Society will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday, June 24th, at noon, in the Confederate Museum.

June Brides.

Cards of invitation have been issued by the Misses Graham to the marriage of their sister, Miss Mary Preston Graham, to Colonel Nathaniel Beveridge Graham, of the faculty of the Virginia Military Institute. The marriage will take place on the evening of Tuesday, the 30th of June, at the home of the bride, Lexington, Va.

Cards have been received in Richmond for the marriage of Miss Kline Valli, a granddaughter of the late Captain Barney Jones, of Toano, Va., to Mr. William Walker Ware, of Toano.

The ceremony will take place Wednesday evening, June 24th, in the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Mary S. Kline, of Plainfield, N. J. Mr. Ware is the son of the late Captain W. W. Ware, and belongs to an old and prominent Virginia family. The young couple are well known in Richmond.

Mrs. Vernon Carrick Grant has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Martha Helen to Mr. James Colfield Warren, Jr. The wedding will take place on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 24th, at 5 o'clock, No. 27 York Street, Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. John L. Ward has sent out cards for the marriage of her daughter, Miss Minnie Lee Ward, to Mr. John William Kenzie Holland, Thursday morning, June 25th, 10:30 o'clock, at Baptist Church, Onancock.

A Southern Version.

Guests at Warm Springs are amusing themselves no little over a Southern version of "God save the King," written by Mr. George S. Holmes, of Charleston, S. C., well known in Warm Springs haunts. The version says:

"God save our noble Ted,
And cure him of swell head;
God cure him of swell head;
Now he is color blind
Clear vision may he find;
Soon have sufficient mind
To know a coon."

The Richmond friends of Mr. Andrew H. Allen, of Petersburg, will be interested to learn that he has just left for Boston, Mass., having been appointed assistant general manager of one of the largest wholesale supply houses in New England. Mr. Allen has been secretary and treasurer of the Petersburg Iron Works Company for some years, and is widely known in Richmond society circles. His friends here will hear of his advancement with pleasure, while regretting that it carries him further away.

Miss Mary Cusla Lee, who has been visiting friends in Fredericksburg, will be a distinguished figure at the Virginia Military Institute commencement exercises next week, among the young ladies who will go to the institute from Richmond will be Miss Louise McAdams, Miss Martha Bowie, Miss Helen Stevens and a party of friends, among them Miss Eugene Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCullough will take a party of friends on their yacht "Virginia" to attend the marriage of Miss Bena Harrison and Mr. Walter H. Taylor, of Norfolk, which will be celebrated in Leesburg, Va., Wednesday, June 24th. Mrs. McCullough before her marriage was Miss Virginia Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hayes, of this city. She still has many friends
